

Richard Borden

Richard Borden served as College of the Atlantic's Academic Dean for twenty years and has returned to teaching as the Rachel Carson Chair in Human Ecology. He is also Past-President and former Executive Director of the Society for Human Ecology. An author of numerous books and articles, he has been a USIA academic specialist and adviser to human ecology programs in Europe, China, Russia and in North and South America.