

Helen Giles-Gee

Dr. Helen Giles-Gee serves as President of Keene State College, which is a founding institutional member of the Council for Public Liberal Arts Colleges. She earned a Ph.D. in Measurement, Evaluation and Techniques of Experimental Research from the University of Pennsylvania and has publications on assessment and past service as president of the Society for College and University Planning. Dr. Giles-Gee has also served as Chair and/or member of self study teams for the Middle States Commission on Higher Education, the WASC, and now the NEASC. In addition to regional associations, she serves on the Appeals Board for National Council of Accreditation for Teacher Education and has been an external reviewer for the Education Testing Service and the Department of Defense.