

Joseph Mark

Joe has been at Castleton since 1980, initially serving as dean of students. In 1984, he was appointed academic dean. Before coming to Castleton, Joe was dean of students at Pitzer College. He began his higher education career teaching psychology at Hobart and William Smith Colleges. A native of Jersey City, New Jersey, and the son of German immigrants, Joe completed his undergraduate degree in psychology and philosophy in 1968 at St. Peter's College. He earned a Ph.D. in psychology at University of Rochester in 1973.