

Alyson M. Geary

Associate Director of the Committee on Public Secondary Schools

Alyson Geary is a highly respected educator who has been both an assistant principal and principal at Hopkinton High School in Massachusetts. Alyson has served as a member of the Committee on Public Secondary Schools where she has been engaged in reviewing reports from member schools and providing them with insights and feedback. As a member of the Committee she has chaired several on-site decennial accreditation visits. The entire staff at the New England Association of Schools and Colleges welcomes Alyson and is pleased to be working with her.