

Lori A. Catalozzi

Lori A. Catalozzi is Dean of Humanities and Learning Communities at Bunker Hill Community College. From 2007-2012, she led the design and implementation of the College's nationally recognized Learning Community Program, which won the New England Board of Higher Education Robert J. McKenna Award for Program Achievement in 2011 and the Achieving the Dream Leah Meyer Austin Award in 2014. Dean Catalozzi received the Bunker Hill Community College Board of Trustees Distinguished Service Award in 2011 and the Community College Humanities Association Distinguished Service Award in 2012. She has presented the College's inclusive excellence agenda at numerous national conferences, including Achieving the Dream; American Association of Colleges and Universities; League for Innovation in the Community College; New England Association of Schools and Colleges; and New England Colloquium for Associate Degree-granted Institutions. Ms. Catalozzi holds a B.A. in English Literature from Smith College, an M.F.A. in English from the University of Pittsburgh, and is a Ph.D. candidate in Higher Education Administration at the University of Massachusetts Boston.