

Thomas S. Edwards

Thomas Edwards holds his Ph.D. from Bowling Green State University and currently serves as the Provost of Thomas College. Edwards is a past President of the New England Faculty Development Consortium, and his interests include retention, strategic planning and assessment. He joined the Commission on Institutions of Higher Education in July of 2014.