

Mary C. MacDonald

Professor Mary C. MacDonald is Head of Instruction Services in the Public Services Department of the University Library at the University of Rhode Island. She coordinates the Information Literacy Instruction program and teaches credit bearing information literacy courses. She has worked with library colleagues to produce a series of interactive information literacy tutorials, and to create and pilot an IL rubric in cooperation with the Office for Student Learning, Outcomes Assessment, and Accreditation and subject faculty across campus. At URI she is a member of the University Teaching Effectiveness Committee, Student Assessment of General Education and the Learning Outcomes Oversight Committee. She is co-author of Information Literacy: 50 practical, standards-based exercises for college students, an ALA Editions publication, and Creating a Comprehensive Information Literacy Plan, published by Neal-Schuman.