

G. Duncan Harris

Duncan Harris serves as the chief student affairs officer at Manchester Community College (MCC) in Manchester, CT where he has worked since 1996. Dr. Harris is responsible for the oversight of the enrollment management, counseling and career services, student life, and the student affairs operations units of the College. During his tenure, he has served as acting chief academic officer, associate dean of academic affairs, counselor, coordinator of academic advising, and interim Director of the Center for Student Development. He is recognized as an expert in student affairs and has served as a NEASC evaluator, guest lecturer, and coach to student affairs professionals. In 2014, he was selected to launch the CT State College and University Student Success Center as the founding executive director. He serves on a number of local and national boards including the American Association of Community Colleges Commission on Diversity, Inclusion, and Equity.