

Charles Kaminski

Charles Kaminski is the Academic Dean for Business, Science, Mathematics and Technologies at Berkshire Community College (BCC) in Pittsfield, MA. He began his career teaching at Middlesex Community College (MCC) just outside of Boston, holding various progressive administrative positions at MCC while completing his doctorate in Math and Science Education at the University of Massachusetts Lowell. Upon completion, in 2004 he moved to Berkshire Community College, where, in addition to his regular responsibilities within Academic Affairs, he is energized by involvement in community-oriented activities specific to STEM education, sustainability and workforce development.
