

Thomas S. Edwards

Thomas S. Edwards is the Provost at Thomas College in Waterville, ME., where he has served as chief academic officer since 2000; he was also Acting President for six months. Tom has a B.A. in German from University of Nebraska/Omaha, an M.A. in German and a Ph.D. in American Culture from Bowling Green State University. Prior to joining Thomas College, he worked at Castleton State College in Vermont, Westbrook College/University of New England in Maine, and University of Wisconsin Parkside.