

Jennifer L. Papillo

Jennifer L. Papillo joined the University of Vermont Office of the General Counsel in August 2010 in the position of Assistant General Counsel, and was promoted to Associate General Counsel in July 2015. She holds a Bachelor's Degree from Elon University, a Juris Doctor from Stetson University College of Law, as well as a Master of Laws (LL.M.) in Taxation from Georgetown University Law Center, with a focus on tax exempt organizations and estate planning. Before coming to UVM, Ms. Papillo served as a tax law clerk for the American Cancer Society, Inc.'s Office of Corporation Counsel in Washington, DC, and a research assistant to Peter F. Lake in the writing of Beyond Discipline: Managing the Modern Higher Education Environment (Hierophant Enterprises, Inc., 2009). Ms. Papillo also worked with Mr. Lake in planning and executing the National Conference on Law and Higher Education from 2008-2010, which is jointly sponsored by the Center for Excellence in Higher Education Law and Policy at Stetson University College of Law and NASPA. Ms. Papillo's representation of UVM includes practice across a broad range of legal issues, including student affairs, student discipline, threat assessment, residential life, and student life operations; Clery Act, Title IX, and other federal regulatory compliance issues; application of constitutional principles (e.g., First Amendment and Due Process); athletics; licensing and trademarks; governmental relations; Public Records Act compliance; taxation, finance, gifts and estates, and benefits administration; policy development and review; and University affiliations, including start up entities.
