

Designing School Culture Capable of Innovating

A Leader's Guide

Jamie Feild Baker, Pomfret School
Chief Academic Officer, Director of Grauer Institute

J. Timothy Richards, Pomfret School
Head of School

- You want to innovate

- You want to innovate
- Align to mission, vision, values

- You want to innovate
- Align to mission, vision, values
- Innovation = strategic advantage

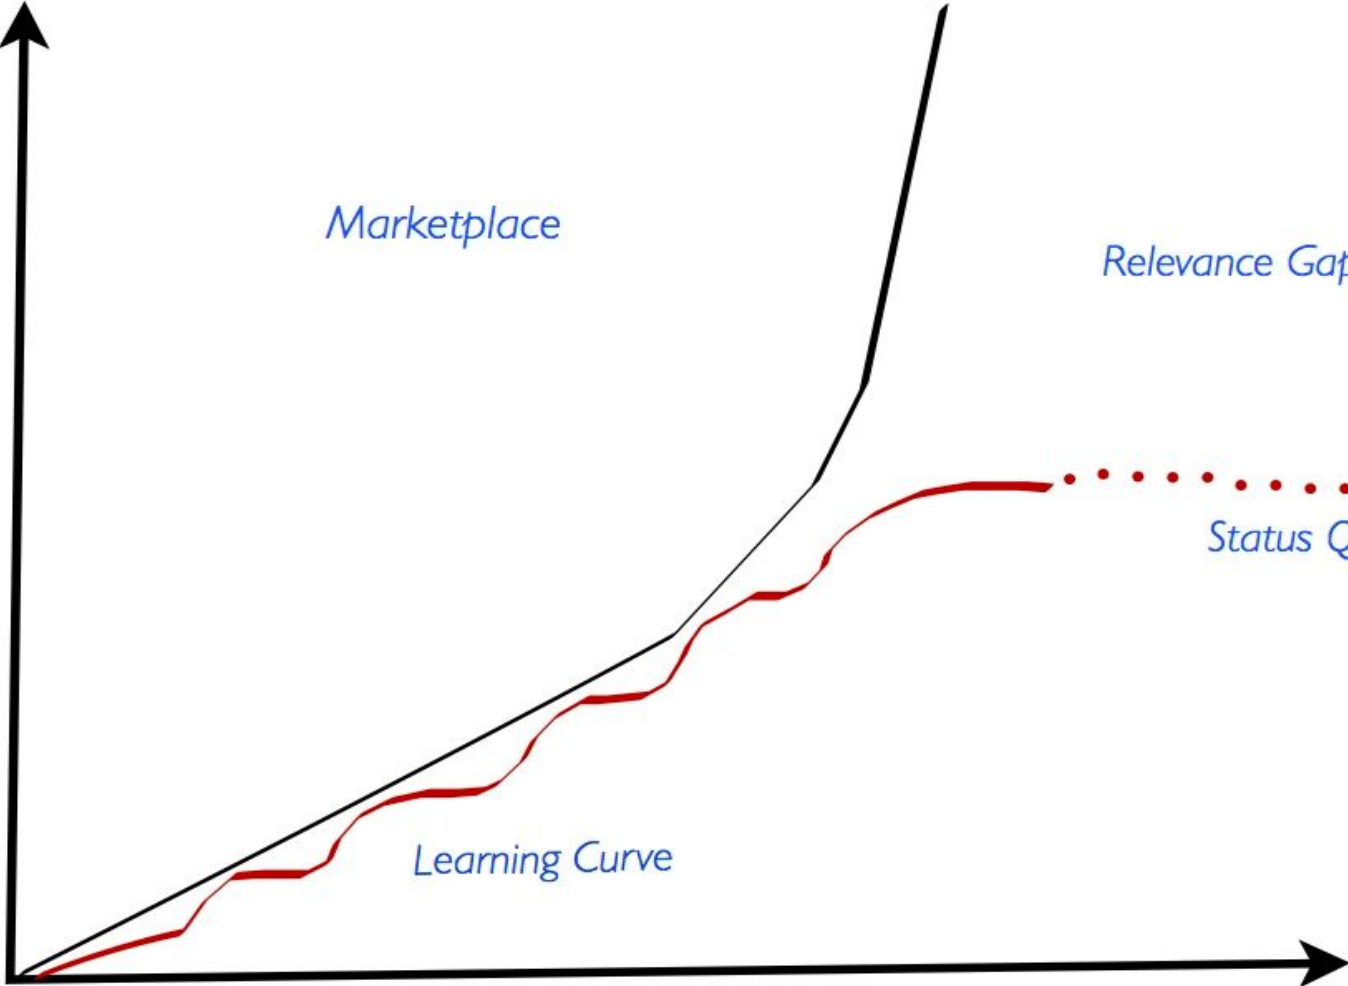

Movement from point A to point B

Varying speeds - both too fast and too slow are perilous

Curves, bumpers, boulders

Progress

Marketplace

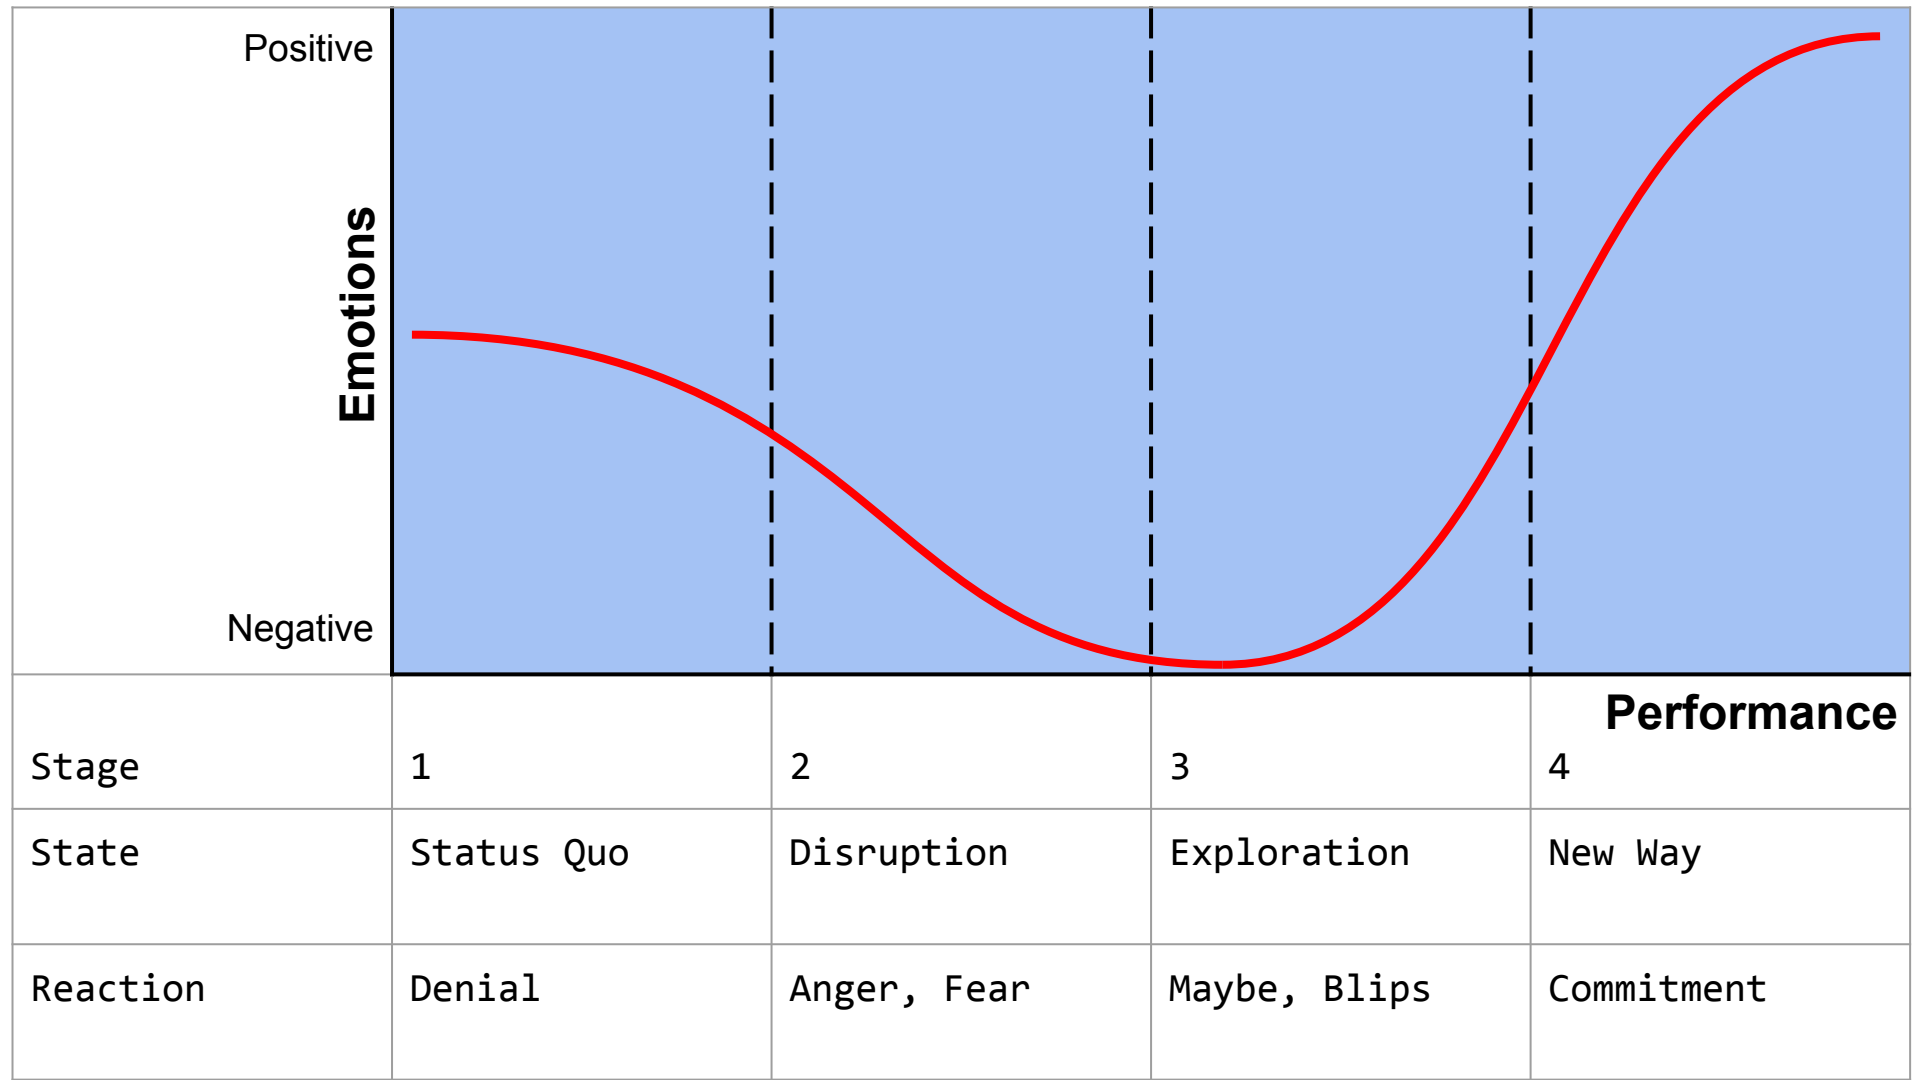

Relevance Gap

Learning Curve

Status Quo

Time

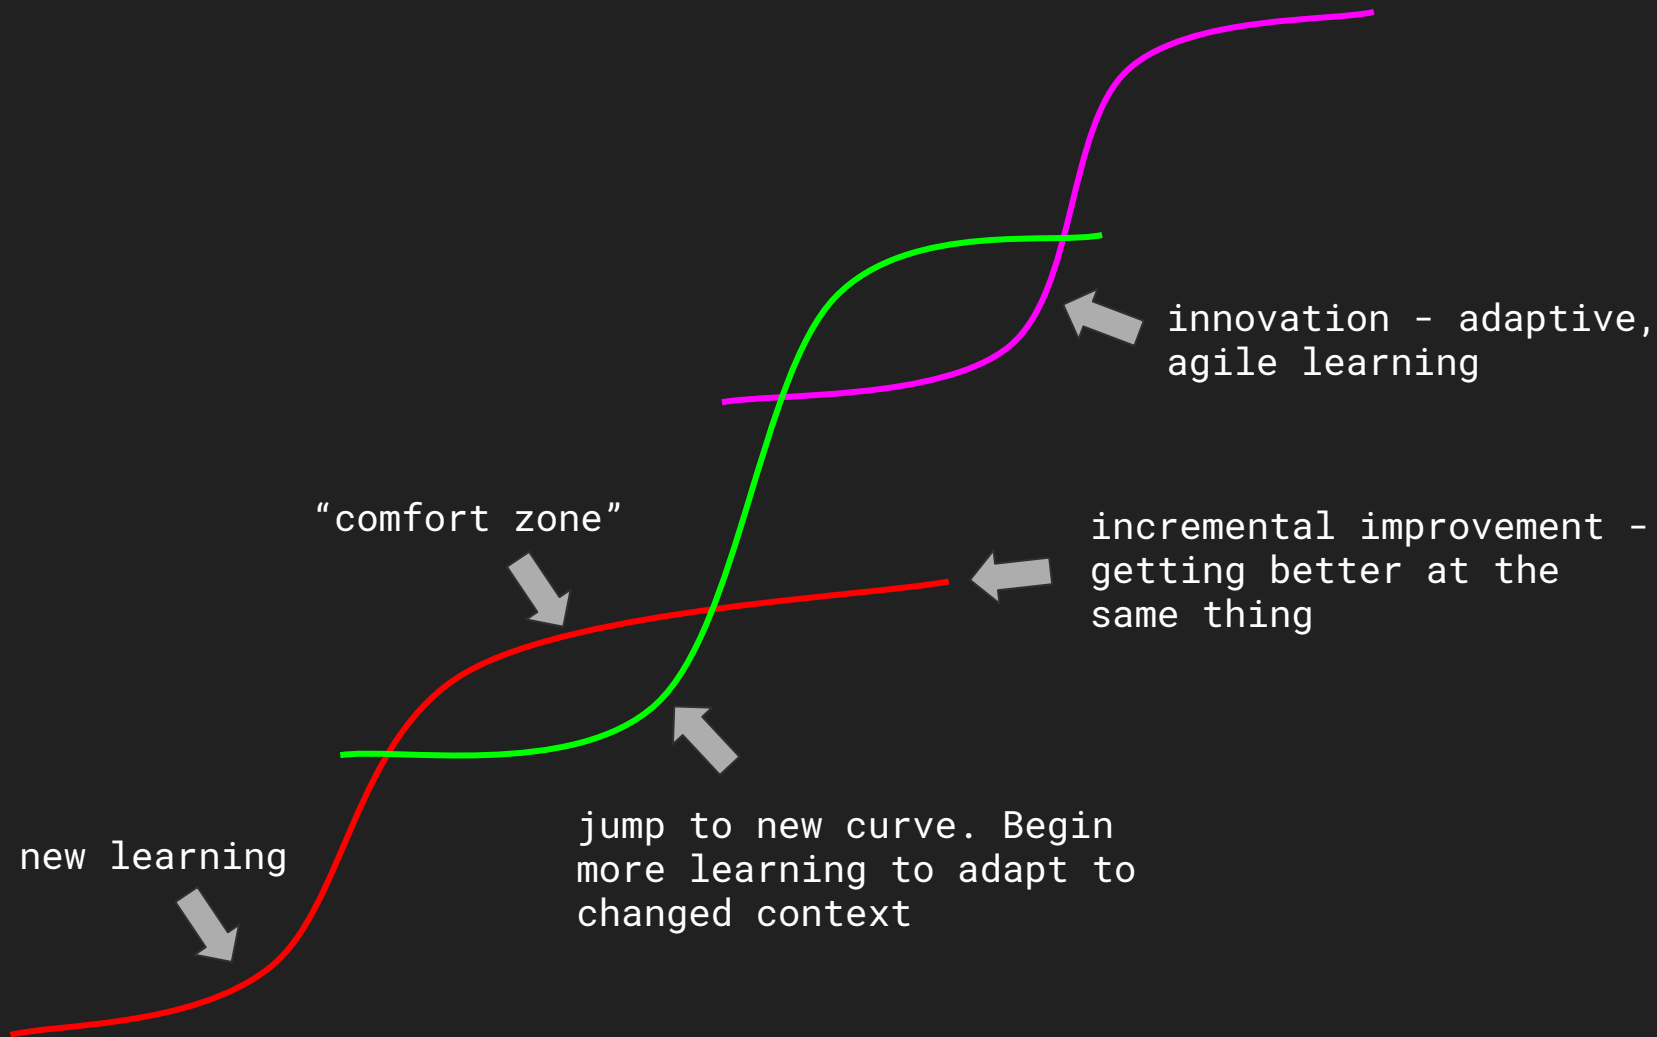

“ Obstacles are those frightful things you see when you take your eyes off your goal. ”

- Henry Ford

To jump curves requires decisive, courageous, and consistent leadership
that drives action

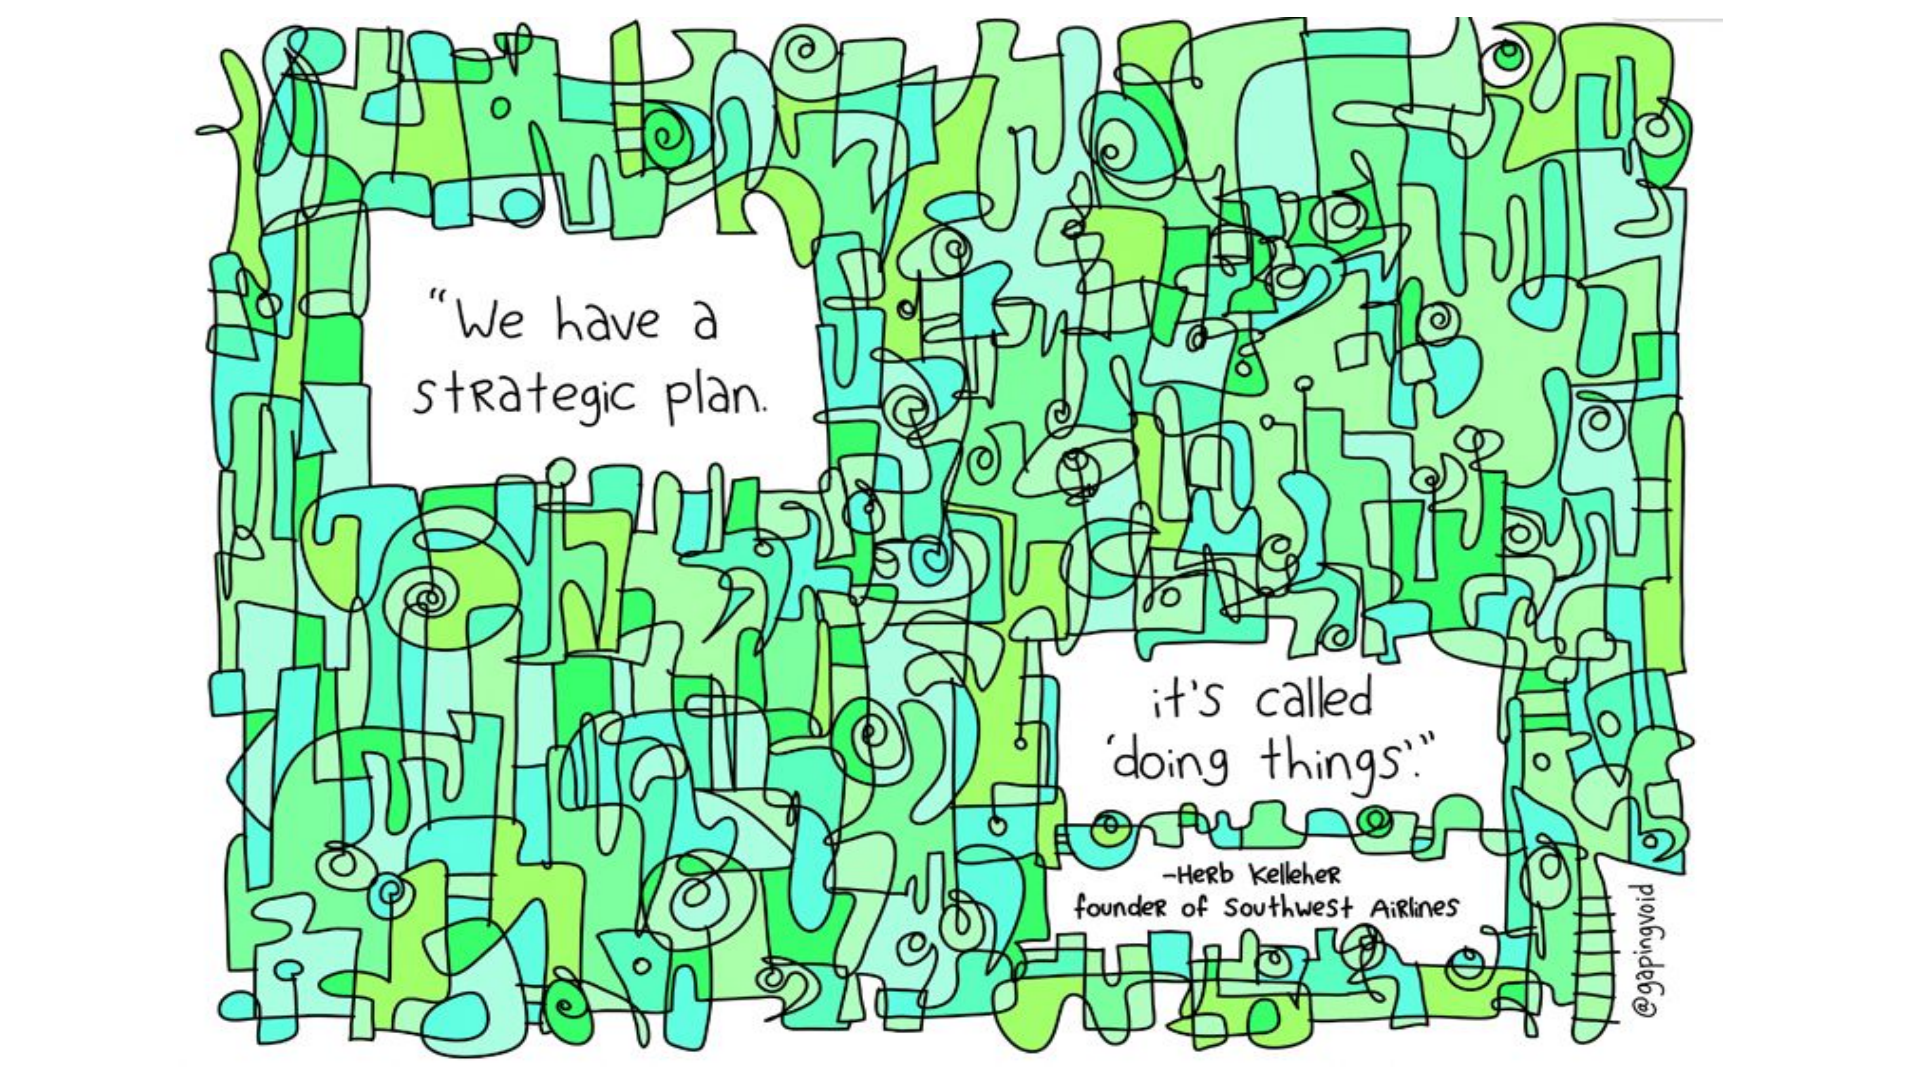

Develop an agile school culture that understands and embraces the need to consistently grow and adapt, and has the capacity (knowledge, skills, mindsets) to learn and implement ever-evolving learning, teaching, business, and customer service practices.

"We have a strategic plan.

it's called
'doing things'."

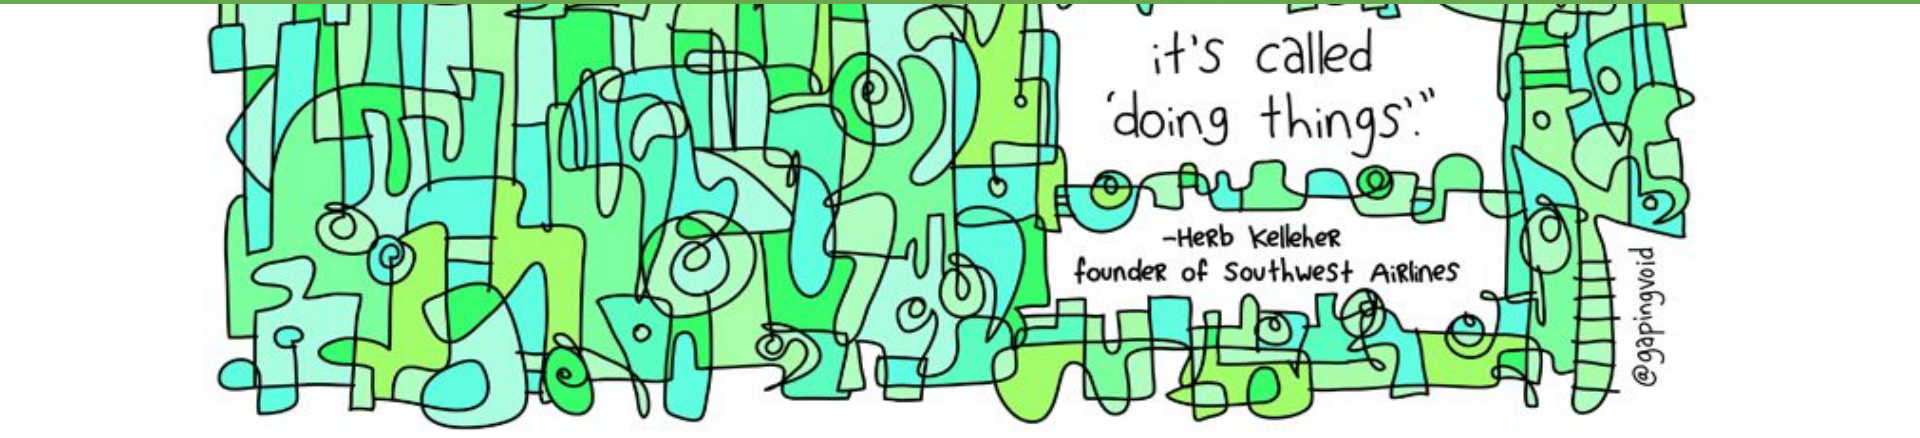

-Herb Kelleher
founder of Southwest Airlines

@gapingvoid

"We have a
strategic plan.

student-centered, relevant, and meaningful

it's called
'doing things'."

-Herb Kelleher
founder of Southwest Airlines

@gapingvoid

A recognized leader in learning, teaching, and innovative program design for independent boarding schools.

While the shift is defined by strategic mission, vision and professional goals / objectives, the journey of change is highly individualized and personal.

an outsider willing to disrupt the culture

“

The illiterate of the 21st century will not be those who cannot read and write, but those who cannot learn, unlearn, and relearn.

”

- Alvin Toffler

Unlearn

Connection to Changed World Understanding Value and Sustainability Leadership Sets Strategy and Agenda Align to Mission and Vision Communicate Continuously

Learn

Learn by Doing Reflect
Iterate

Relearn

The New Way We Do Things Around Here

Culture

Innovation
Strategy

The Meeting of Minds

change takes place at the root assumptions

Is your school culture innovation ready?

Behaviors
and Habits

Beliefs and Attitudes

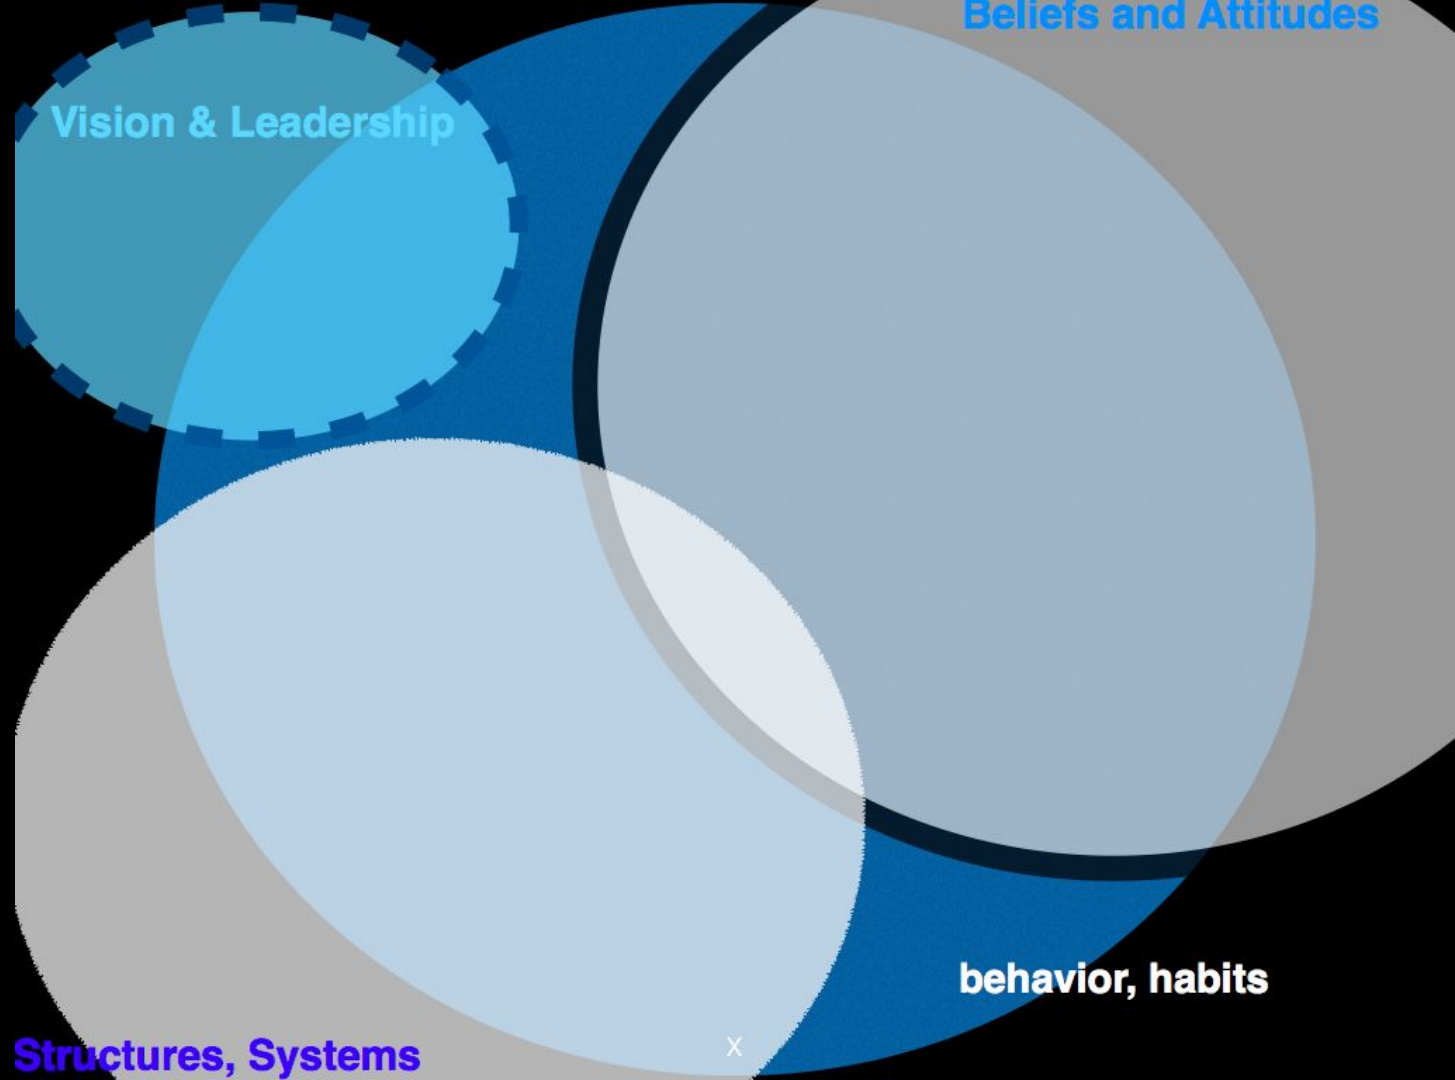

Structures, Systems

Vision & Leadership

Feedback Loops

Vision & Leadership

Beliefs and Attitudes

Structures, Systems

behavior, habits

x

Behaviors
and Habits

Beliefs and Attitudes

Structures, Systems

Vision & Leadership

Feedback
Loops

- schedule change
- eliminate APs
- student-chosen topics
- major overhaul student life curriculum
- mandatory growth plans with accountability
- increased role of department chairs
- sharing classrooms / collaborative department offices
- Project Zero
- measuring performance

School Mission, Vision, Principles

learning walks

class visits

evidence

individual aspirations / dreams individual intriguing “beautiful questions” personal inquiry action plan - shared

"NOT ME"

innovation is not accidental, nor optional

success

what people think it looks like

success

what it really looks like

manage a portfolio of innovation initiatives develop others to shine

change = $(status quo) > risk(change)

change = $(status quo) > risk(change)

<http://bit.ly/NEASC-JamieBaker>